Weather Spotter

Training

Presented by The National Weather Service Cleveland
And brought to you by
Crawford County Emergency Management

April 28, 2010

6:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m.

William & Hannah Crawford School Building, North Robinson

Being a storm spotter not only means dedication, but also training. Each spring the Cleveland office of the National Weather Service trains members of police & fire departments, emergency management officials and amateur radio operators on spotting techniques. The training is coordinated by Crawford County Emergency Management and a NWS meteorologist serves as the guest instructor. The goal of the training is not just to recognize tornadoes, but to have some understanding of storm structure, which in turn better prepares the spotter for the extreme and unusual circumstances.

SKYWARN Training is FREE and open to the public. Please attend the training session listed above. You will be trained and enrolled in the program during this event. If you have attended the class previously, it is suggested you renew your training every two years.

To register for Skywarn training please call Crawford County Emergency Management at 419-562-6009 by April 26th, 2010
